COR. 7TH AND E

MRS. NILES RELENTS.

She Asks That Her Petition for Divorce Be Dismissed.

Edward G. Niles, who was arrested on Thursday morning at the instance of his wife, Mary E. Niles, who charged that he attempted to shoot her at her home, 121 Massachusetts Avenue northeast, the evening before, was yesterday indicted by the grand jury for assault with intent to kill. Niles, it is said, only fired once, and fortunately the bullet did not strike Mrs. Niles. It, however, went whizzing dangerously near her and crashed through the headboard of the bed upon which she was sitting at the time the shot was fired.

On account of domestic troubles, Mr. and Mrs. Niles have not been living together for some time, and on May 8 last, the latter filed proceedings for divorce in the Supreme Court of the District. What the grounds of the petition for divorce were not made public, as the papers were, under the direction of one of the justices of the court, locked in the safe in the office of the clerk. It is believed that the filing of the suit was the cause for the alleged assault of Niles upon his wife. On the evening before the shooting occurred, Mrs. Niles stated that her husband went to her house and made a demand for some jewelry which she had in her possession, and upon her refusal to accede to his request, he fired at her.

Mrs. Niles appeared before the grand jury on Thursday and testified as to the circumstances in relation to the shooting. Upon this and some corroborative evidence the jury found a true bill.

SUMMER.

The season is now with us when all things created seem literally to faint with heat, and mankind especially is liable to be attacked in the weakest spot, according to his individual constitution, by sickness and disease. Some harmless stimulant is needed to rally the faded forces of nature to repel this attack. Take at such a time Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

AMERICAN WHEELMEN HOLD A CONFERENCE

Discuss the Bicycle Path Near Great Falls.

The First Section of the Roadway Has Been Built.

The Work Will Cost $1,000 and of This Amount Half Has Been Subscribed.

A meeting of members of the League of American Wheelmen and unattached riders in this city was held last night at Cabin Hotel, by invitation of the proprietors of that resort. About thirty members of the good roads committee, which has in charge the construction of a cycle path between the Angiers' Clubhouse and Great Falls, on the Conduit Road, were present. A. Girouard, Chairman, presided.

The committee on finance reported that the balance in the treasury amounted to $102.22, of which about $100 will be paid today to the laborers engaged on the cycle path. The amount raised last night was $116.40.

The committee on construction reported that the path has been completed 3,200 feet, which comprises the first section. This portion of the path will be opened Sunday to riders, who may make the trip to the Falls or to "Dickey's." During the week about 1,100 feet will be put in a condition for riding. The whole distance will be 5,900 feet long. The plans of the promoters provide for two bridges and two pavilions. Checking stations for wheels will also be maintained. The entire path when completed will be about $1,000. Of this amount $540 has already been subscribed. The path is one of the most unique in the United States. In its construction solid concrete has been used, while the path proper has in some places been built up from the edge of the canal which it borders. The top will be made smooth with cinders, which are being used largely in its construction. The roadway as it is being built is from six to thirty-one feet wide, and is considerably heavier than the ordinary wagon road.

The next meeting of the committee will be held next Wednesday night at Takoma Park Hotel. An entertainment will be given, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the path.

The good roads committee is composed of the following:

Alphonse Girouard, Chairman; Dr. W. W. Allegor, A. J. Whitaker, R. W. Bishop, Charles E. Wood, Secretary-Treasurer; William Jose, J. P. Libbey, Mortimer Redman, George C. Cator, A. E. Adams, J. D. Torrey, William H. Edwards, Thomas S. Wood, Dr. Samuel L. Hinton, Dr. Robert Scott, Lamb, Dr. H. H. Hunt, Dr. C. Rogers, Clarence Carson, Prof. George A. Hill, Edward Kloman, W. W. Karr, Jacobus S. Jones, W. N. Netherland, Charles G. Gould, H. Bolton, and R. Foster, T. A. Talcott, Noble Lewis, and W. W. Jordan.

Among those present at the meeting last night were the following:

A. Girouard, Dr. W. W. Allegor, J. P. Libbey, J. D. Torrey, J. F. Hapley, J. L. Thompson, Dr. Robert Scott, Lamb, Jacobus Jones, T. C. Cator, A. E. Adams, Whitaker, George Myers, J. L. Paulsen, Harry T. Ruff, Paul A. Draper, W. Burton Green, Dr. H. L. Yatsman, and John D. Torrey.

A ROMANTIC WEDDING.

Marriage of Miss Anna L. Pitney and John F. Gaynor.

The story of a romantic and quiet wedding, in which Miss Anna L. Pitney, of this city, and John F. Gaynor, a well-known New York politician and millionaire, figured as principals, was made public yesterday.

The ceremony was solemnized several days ago at New York city and the bride and groom are now en route to Europe or have already arrived at a surprise.

The culmination of a courtship begun in this city about three years ago. At that time Mrs. Gaynor, a charming brunette, twenty-seven years old, and a native of New York, was employed as a stenographer and typewriter at the Shoreham Hotel, which position she occupied until about two weeks ago, when she retired.

Mr. Gaynor met Miss Pitney at the Shoreham while he was a guest at that hotel. His introduction was purely a business one, he is dictating to Miss Pitney, and now having fully realized my wife's duties, having contemplated them in their entirety, and having drawn my conclusions from the premises I have consulted, I find that my promise of years ago must now be kept, and therefore have completely resumed my married relations with my dear husband; and further, he having in a handsome manner pledged me his word, thereby securing to me for the future his love and respect, making my happiness complete.

Therefore, considering the premises, I do hereby, this 23rd day of June, 1899, respectfully request the clerk of this court to dismiss the bill of complaint and enter the above entitled cause dismissed."

This petition finally disposes of the divorce proceedings instituted by Mrs. Niles. How satisfactory her visit to District Attorney Davis was and what the outcome will be is not known. Mr. Davis said that in reply to her statement in reference to her appearing as the prosecuting witness against her husband she would have to submit her request in the form of an affidavit.

In the mean time it is understood that Mr. Niles will be called for arraignment this morning in Criminal Court No. 1.

THE INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION.

Two Witnesses Tell of Farming in New Jersey.

The Industrial Commission yesterday listened to the testimony of two witnesses from New Jersey regarding agricultural conditions in that State.

Birkham Cole, of Woodstock, N. J., advocated a high tariff on all products that can be grown in this country. He estimated that such a law would result in a saving to the country of from three to four hundred million dollars a year.

He said that farmers in his section of the country live well; that they have good homes, and own horses and carriages. Farming is profitable enough to insure a good living and interest on the money invested, based on the present value of land, which is from $40 to $50 an acre.

Mr. Ketchum said that he thought the outlook for farming in New Jersey good. The Commission today will hear A. C. True and George K. Holmes, both of the Agricultural Department. Mr. Holmes will testify as to agricultural trusts.

TRAGIC DEATH OF A BOY.

Charles Wallace Mangled by a Pennsylvania Train.

Charles Wallace, ten years old, son of West Wallace, an engineer in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, died at Providence Hospital at 8:30 o'clock last night as the result of injuries received when he was run over by the police ambulance at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The child, with several companions, was playing on a bank along the railroad tracks at the west yard, a shoveling and shifting engine with several cars attached passed. Charles ran after the train and in attempting to jump on one of the cars lost his hold and fell under the wheels. Just at the knee, crushing and mangle the limb in a horrible manner. He was picked up in an unconscious condition. As his injury was so severe, the ambulance was placed on the first passenger train which passed Bowie en route to this city and arrived here at 3:10 o'clock. At the railroad station he was met by the police ambulance and taken to Providence Hospital, where an examination disclosed that amputation of the limb was necessary. The operation was performed by Dr. S. P. Smith, who arrived at the institution. The patient sank rapidly and despite the efforts of the physicians died from the effects of shock incident to the injury and operation.

It was learned that the father of the child was communicated with and replied that he would arrive and take charge of the remains. The funeral will occur at Bowie. It was learned that the body was taken by the Maryland authorities in regard to the accident, but it is probable that an inquest will not be considered necessary.

The body of the white man who committed suicide at Franconia station, in Fairfax county, yesterday, was buried near the railroad track at Franconia last night after Justice R. C. Triplett held an inquest over the remains. The suicide appeared to be about thirty years of age, and from papers found on his person, the coroner concluded that his name was Walker and that his home was in Georgia, where he is thought to have a brother. Nothing was found that would lead to his positive identity. Letters found in his pockets showed that Walker had recently visited Baltimore and that he left Washington on Wednesday of this week. The suicide had inflicted two ugly gashes in his throat and a penknife, with which the deed was committed, was found by his side. The jury returned a verdict of suicide. Justice Triplett has the letters and other effects of the suicide, and the grave has been marked.
